

Gayle Y. Fisher, M.Ed., Ed.Tech.

Improving the World of Learning Differences

- ◆ Educator & Mom
- ◆ Contemporary Author & Speaker
- ◆ Learning Differences Consultant
- ◆ Compelling Collaborator & Group Facilitator
- ◆ Workshop Developer
- ◆ Advocate of Special Needs & Learning Differences

Learning Projects & Teams

- ◆ Special Needs Sibs – Founding Co-Facilitator
- ◆ Our Training Center – Founding Co-Facilitator
- ◆ Getting Sorted – Founder
- ◆ If We Learn Differently – Founder
- ◆ Apendemos Diferente – Founding Co-Facilitator

Education | Experience

- ◆ Intervention Workshops for Families, Caregivers & Professionals
- ◆ Two non-profit companies supporting Neural Diversity: Siblings & Workplace Readiness
- ◆ Former Client Services Specialist at enCodePlus
- ◆ Seventeen (17) years in oil/gas/petrochemical, construction, and independent consulting
- ◆ Certified UNT-WISE (DARS) CRP-Director and Job Skills Trainer/Job Coach
- ◆ Studied Educational Technology, Finance, and Pre-Engineering (respective majors) at Texas A&M, University of Houston, Houston Community College

Bio:

Gayle is a mom of learning differences, educator, author, former corporate warrior, and learning differences consultant. She helps you understand what to do to help your children with learning differences prepare for life, add joy, and reduce shame & fear.

Gayle has a master's degree in Educational Technology from Texas A&M. She lives with her younger son in The Woodlands, Texas. Her older child attends college in Oregon. Gayle's curiosity & passion for advocating for those with learning differences, and on behalf of her son, keeps her work & contributions relevant.

More can be found on Gayle & our learning projects & teams at GettingSorted.com